Bobby Jones Wins Fourth Straight Title

COPS AMATEUR GOLF CROWN BY 8-7 SCORE

Atlanta Links Wizard Makes Clean Sweep of Year's Big Matches.

GENE HOMANS IS VICTIM

Championship Play Ends After 29th Hole with Bobby Far in Lead.

By International News Service

MERION CRICKET CLUB, SOUTH ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 27—Having previously succeeded in doing the highly improbable, Robert T. Jones, Jr., today actually achieved what had been regarded as the impossible.

He beat Gene Homans, New York, to win the national amateur golf championship by the record score of 8 up and 7 to play, and the victory meant that this amazing man not only won his thirteenth major title but had made a clean sweep of the golfing year.

In brief, he won the British amateur for the first time in may, the British open in June, the American open in July and now in September the last major championship was his, thus cashing many sentimental wagers that were made on him by friends who felt that he could win four championships in one year or any number that he set his heart on.

On the nineteenth hole, Jones again drove with a spoon and was a few yard's behind Homan's tee shot, which reached a shallow trap. Bob was just short of the green with his second while Homans was on. Jones ran up dead and Homans putted close to halve the hole Jones seven up.

Gene's tee was in an adjoining fairway at the long 20th. Bob was in the clear. Both were short in two, but Jones put his third 10 feet from the pin. Homans' third went over and he putted short. Jones missed and the hole was halved in par 5.

Neither reached the short 21st from the tee. Jones almost holed out from a trap. Homans was just on the edge of the green. Gene slipped two feet past the cup on his first effort and left himself a partial stymie. He missed the putt and took four to three for Jones, Jones going eight up.

Homans was trapped from the tee at the long 22nd and Jones was in the rough. Homans was short on the green in three and on in fourth, 40 feet from the pin. Jones pitched 12 feet from the cup in six. Homans was down in six. Jones holed his par 5, and went nine up.

The drives at the 23rd were not far apart. Jones was in front 12 yards. Each second shot found a resting place on the green, Jones 50 feet from the cup, Homans 35. Jones' putt was four feet short. It was a half in par four.

The drives were close together, 230 and 250-yards down the fairway, at the 24th. Homans used a spoon to get home in two. Jones took a No. 3 iron. They were both home with Jones well inside. Homans putted close from 50 feet, so did Jones. They halved in par fours.

Gene Plays Bob Even

Homans was in the fairway while Jones drove to rough at the 25th. Their second rolled past the pin and each had good putts left for their pars. They missed and halved in fives.

On the 26th, Bob nearly drove the green and chipped to 10 feet of the cup. Homans was too strong with his approach but just missed sinking a 15-footer. It was a half

Morning Rounds

Jones virtually clinched the national amateur championship by finishing the first 18 holes of the final round 7 up.

Homans, as a matter of fact, saved himself from being as much as nine or ten down by sensational work on the last two holes of the morning round.

After losing three straight holes, the youngster laid his tee shot dead on the 215-yard 17th for a two, which Jones conceded after driving into the rough and missing his putt for a three.

Homans Sinks Long Putt

Then on the 18th, the Jersey star holed a 20-foot putt to save the half after overshooting the green, while Bobby was 18 feet from the cup with his second.

Jones took matters very easily at the outset and his margin of 3-up at the turn was more the result of Homan's very erratic play than any superlative shooting on the part of the triple-champion. Bobby three-putted three of the greens on the outgoing nine but on two of these he got no worse than a half, losing the 7th when he was stymied. That was the one hole Homans won on the outgoing nine and his birdie on the 17th was the only hole he captured coming in.

BLEACHERS COLLAPSE

More Than 100 Injured as Spectators Fall in Wreckage.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27—Decayed upright supports were blamed today for the collapse of the bleachers at the Central High school athletic field last night, which catapulted 2,500 spectators of the Youngstown Chaney-Central football game, more than 100 were injured, several serjously.

As an official investigation got under way, John Brady, an inspector for the state division of factories and workshops, exhibited a piece of wood which he said he took from the wrecked bleachers. He said this wood, a part of the upright, was so decayed that it could be picked to pieces with the fingers.

The seats collapsed just as the referee blew his whistle, ending the half.

Joy Turned to Horror

As the crowd rose to stretch there was a deafening roar and those in the bleachers who had been shrieking for joy a minute previous were thrown to the ground a withering screaming mass.

Some of those who went down were struck by flying timbers while others were buried beneath the debris. Firemen and policemen experienced considerable difficulty in removing the injured from the wreckage.

The fact that no one was killed outright was amazing as people were hurled in every direction and those who remained conscious fought to get out of the debris. Emergency treatment was provided on the field by doctors and nurses, and the more seriously hurt were rushed to hospitals.

Excitement ran high through other sections of the stands and order was restored only after school officials resorted to a loud-speaker system set up to announce the game in calming the surging crowd.

The game was delayed until the injured had been removed, and then proceeded over the protest of the Central High principal

GAS PRICES DOWN THREE CENTS HERE

Oil Companies Make Reductions in City at Noon Today.

Gasoline prices dropped three cents a gallon at all service stations within the Marion city limits today.

All of the major companies announced that the new price levels would be 16 cents a gallon for the regular fuel with corresponding decreases for the other grades.

COUNCIL HAS LIVELY DEBATE ON GAS RATE

Adjourns Without Taking Action on New Marion Proposal of Company.

After listening to a lively discussion, both for and against a proposed settlement of the local gas rate fight last night, city council adjourned without expressing itself either in favor of or opposed to the latest proposition of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Council emerged from a half-hour caucus session, in which "figures were discussed," according to one councilman, to give the proposal of the gas company its second reading and to hear arguments of a record crowd which filled the gallery to overflowing.

Unless a special meeting is called before that time, council will not take up the gas question until its regular meeting two weeks from last Monday night. At that time, it will probably be given the third reading required by the rules of procedure, and may be submitted to a final vote.

Union Leader in Opposition

Several local attorneys and Ralph K. Ruppart, secretary of the Marion Central Labor union, took the floor to oppose the gas company's newest proposal. E. M. Tharpe, assistant general manager of the company, was the only speaker for the company.

Grant E. Mouser Sr. was first to take the floor in opposition to the proposal. He pointed out the utilities commission had cut the valuations of the gas company property, for rate making purposes, from $23,000,000 to $11,000,000, and predicted a proportionate reduction in gas rates when the supreme court, which now has the valuations fixed by the commission under consideration, returns its finding and rates are fixed by the commission.

He predicted a settlement of the gas rate fight within a few months, and repeatedly said his appearance before council to oppose the gas company was "not for political reasons."

After declaring "labor is not interested in politics," Ralph K. Ruppart took the floor to denounce the proposal of the gas company and ask council why it had not forced the company to give adequate service here under terms of the company's franchise. He questioned the actions of several Marionites who have taken a stand

AT LEAST FIVE LIVES CLAIMED, 2 BOATS DOWN

Fate of Third Craft Unknown Following Storm on Great Lakes.

FIVE ON BARGE PERISH

Nine Others Reach Shore Safely, Two Brought in This Morning.

By The Associated Press

MUSKEGON, Mich., Sept. 27—The waters of Lake Michigan whipped into fury by a 40-mile gale yesterday, took the lives of at least five persons, swallowed up two boats and left the fate of a third undetermined this morning.

The five dead were members of the crew of the barge Salvor, caught in the gale yesterday afternoon when less than two miles from safety in the harbor here.

Nine others of the 14 who were aboard the barge reached shore alive. Two of them were brought in this morning after having spent 16 hours lashed to the derrick on the barge. They were taken to Grand Haven by members of the coast guard crew from that point, who shot a line aboard the barge this morning to rescue them. A third man, lashed to the derrick, was dead, and because of the heavy seas still running, efforts to remove his body were abandoned.

The other vessels to go down before the gale was the schooner "Our Son" last of her type on the lakes. She foundered off Ludington, Mich., her crew of seven being removed by the freighter William Nelson.

A third boat, the steel hulled motor carried North Shore, which left St. Joseph, Mich. with a cargo of grapes yesterday morning en route to Milwaukee, had not been reported today. She carried five men and a woman.

Fears for the safety of eight members of the coast guard crew from Ludington, who set out at 4 p. m. yesterday to go to the aid of the schooner, were dispelled this morning when word was received here they had reached Sheboygan, Wis., making the crossing under their own power.

STORM HITS BUFFALO

Small Craft Sunk in Harbor by Arrival of Sudden Blast.

By International News Service

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 27—Small craft in the harbor were sunk, trees uprooted, electric light and telephone wires were blown down and air mail service seriously impeded here today when a 60-mile-an-hour gale struck the city after sweeping over Lake Erie from the mid-west.

The gale struck the city with dramatic suddenness and immediately caused heavy damage.

The wind was believed to be part of the near-tornado which swept through Detroit and other great lakes cities yesterday.

Prohibition Seen as Leading 1921 Issue

By International News Service

CONFESSED BURGLARS HELD IN JAIL HERE

Pair Held for Waldo, Martel School Thefts Unable To Raise Bond.

Kermett Kunkle, 21, of 895 York street, and Stephen Sunserq, 22, of 437 North Greenwood street, were taken to the county jail last night to await action of the grand jury on burglary charges to which they have already pleaded guilty. They were taken to jail because of their inability to raise $7,500 bond each, under which they were placed by Judge William R. Martin in municipal court yesterday.

Meantime, city police, who rounded up the boys and cleared up four burglaries by their confessions, were preparing to return some of the loot today. A radio, valued at $150, and a portable typewriter will be returned to the Waldo schools. The two young men confessed to burglarizing the Waldo schools Sept. 9, and also admitted burglarizing Martel schools the same night. Police are in possession of blankets and carpenter tools taken from the manual training department of the schools. The blankets will be returned, but the tools will be retained as evidence for the grand jury, and in the event of an indictment, in the trial of the men.

Efforts are being made by police to recover another typewriter, stolen from Martel, which is said to be in a Cleveland pawn shop.

The three charges each facing the men in local courts are for the Waldo school burglary, the Martel school burglary, and burglary of a filling station at Big Island early this month.

After they have been prosecuted in local courts, they will be liable to a charge of burglary from Union county, where they are said to have burglarized an Erie freight car of a drum of oil last Tuesday night.

DATES FIXED FOR EXECUTION OF TWO MEN

Massa, McCartney and Sites To Be Electrocuted Within 11 Days.

TWO MOTIONS OVERRULED

"Double-Crossed," One Says as Sentence Is Passed by Bucyrus Judge.

Special To The Star

BUCYRUS, O., Sept. 27—With the formal sentencing of Kenneth McCartney and Earl Sites by Judge J. Walter Wright in common pleas here this morning, three men are scheduled to die in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary within 11 days for parts played in the slaying of a Galion filling station attendant June 27.

McCartney was sentenced to die Jan. 10, while Sites will follow him to the chair two days later, the court ruled. Fred Massa sentenced two weeks ago, will be first of the now notorious Mansfield trio to die. He will go to his death Jan. 2.

Motions Overruled

Final disposition of the case in the local courts came this morning after Judge Wright had overruled two motions asking for new trials.

Only action by higher courts or executive clemency by Gov. Myers Y. Cooper can save the men from death. The trio was convicted by three juries in three weeks. They were found guilty without recommendation of mercy in the fatal shooting of Ralph Wilcox during an attempted filling station holdup.

McCartney, the first man to be sentenced this morning, heard the death sentence pronounced with a smile on his face. "Double crossed by every witness on the stand," was his statement to the judge before receiving the death penalty. He claimed that more had been added to his confession after he had signed it. Judge Wright said it was too late to make such charges now, pointing out that he failed to appear as his own witness during the trial.

Sites Downcast

A entirely different attitude on his fate was taken by Sites. He appeared downcast as he left the courtroom. When asked if he had anything to say, he told Judge Wright that he "would like to have a chance."

His attorney indicated that he would confer with the parents before making plans to carry the case to a higher court. McCartney's counsel plans to take immediate action in an effort to save his life.

In the meantime the two men are confined in county jail before joining Massa in the death row at Ohio penitentiary to await execution.

POWER COMPANY IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

Firm Which Furnishes Electric Current in This Vicinity in Court Action.

The Suburban Light & Power Co. of Alliance was in the hands of a receiver today after confessing judgment for $1,076,800 in a pending lawsuit brought by the Chase National Bank of New York, according to Associated Press Dispatches from Cleveland.

The company furnishes LaRue and Waldo villages with electric service, purchasing current for these villages from the C., D. & M. Electric Co., according to W. P. Moloney, president of the C., D. & M. Electric Co. Further than that, the Suburban company has no connection with the local company, Mr. Moloney said.

The General Light & Power Co., an allied concern with the Suburban Light & Power Co., operates mostly in Bucyrus.

Service will not be affected by the receivership, officials of the company say.

Joseph C. Fogg, Cleveland attorney, was appointed receiver under $25,000 bond in federal court yesterday by Judge Paul Jones.

It was understood the judgment and receivership were a move to adjust the involved financial affairs of Suburban and the Utilities Service Co., also of Alliance, which went into receivership Sept. 18.

The receivership petition said the Suburban, with its subsidiaries, the General Light & Power Co., and the Suburban Power Co., provides power and electric service to approximately 11,000 consumers in 100 or more cities and towns.

FIND WRECKAGE OF LOST PLANE

Discover Bits of Parker and McNulty Craft Along Lake Erie Shore.

TWO MEN STILL MISSING

Search Started at Once for Bodies; Cause of Crash Unknown.

By The Associated Press

CONNEAUT, O., Sept. 27—The wreckage of the plane in which Pilot Willard Parker and his passenger, William J. McNulty, Columbus, O., salt manufacturer, disappeared early Wednesday, was found scattered along the Lake Erie shoreline three miles west of here early today. No bodies were found. The plane had fallen in the lake and the wreckage washed ashore.

The wreckage was identified by manufacturers' numbers. It was discovered by W. D. Dimick of Conneaut, after airplane pilots and others had searched for two days.

Parker and McNulty took off from Cleveland municipal airport at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday, saying they were going to Buffalo and to Mifflinburg, Pa. They never reached either place.

At the time of the take off they had gasoline only enough to last about five hours. When no reports of their landing were received Cleveland and Columbus aviation officials began a search.

It was believed by relatives at first that McNulty had gone to Canada.

There was no indication in the wreckage of what caused the accident. The engine was missing from the craft.

Search was started immediately for the bodies of McNulty and Parker. Mayor Roy A. Pease of Conneaut took charge and ordered all available police to the scene.

An aerial search of the Cleveland, Buffalo and Pittsburgh territories failed to reveal any trace of the missing pair yesterday.

HOME BREWER SAFE, DRY CHIEF ASSERTS

Beyond Reach of Enforcers If No Sales Are Made, Woodcock Says.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 — The citizen who manufactures wine or beer in his home for home consumption, with no sales involved, was held today by Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodstock, to be beyond the reach of federal enforcement agencies.

As a matter of law, Woodcock explained today in his first pronouncement on this point, the home manufacturer is liable to punishment if the liquor he produces is "intoxicating in fact." This he said, is a point for the jury to decide.

Practically speaking, however, he continued, evidence to bring the home manufacturer to trial cannot be obtained unless commercial features are involved upon which a search warrant can be issued.

COMPANY MUST PAY $112,000 TO PATRONS

Cost of Service Here Reduced by Order of State Body Today.

RULING OF COMMISSION

Decision Is Result of Proceedings Starting with Application in 1925.

Substantial reductions in Marion telephone rates and a refund of $112,000 to Marion customers of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. were ordered by the state utilities commission today in a final order in the five year rate case, according to Associated Press dispatches from Columbus late today.

The refund ordered is on rates collected between Aug. 1, 1925 and Dec. 31, 1928 by the telephone company under bond.

The new rate in the city of Marion, for residence individual lines, wall sets is $2.75 a month, desk sets $3.00; residence four party wall sets, $2.25, desk sets $2.50. Individual line $5.75, two-party line, business $4.25.

Rural rates are for 10-party business line $3.25 a month; 10-party residence line, $2.25 a month.

These figures are the gross rate and do not take into account the 25 cent reduction now offered by the company for payment of bills within a stipulated time.

Collect Under Bond

In every instance except the rural residence phones, the new rates are lower than the rates which the telephone company collected under bond while it was making an appeal for higher rates. Rates now being collected under bond are as follows: for residence individual line wall set, $3 gross with an additional 25 cents charge for desk phones; residence four-party wall sets $2.50 with 25 cents extra for desk phones; individual business line $7; two-party business line $5.

The telephone rate case has been under battle before the utilities commission since March 30, 1925, when the Marion County Telephone Co. appealed to the commission for higher rates here. Congressman Grant E. Mouser Jr., city solicitor at that time, led a fight against the proposed rate increase. As the battle progressed, his father, Grant E. Mouser Sr., was employed as co-counsel.

Permission was granted the company by the commission to collect advanced rates under bond, which became effective Aug. 1, 1925. The company was obliged to post a bond to assure refund to the customers in the event the rates finally set by the commission were lower than those it was allowed to collect from April 1, 1925.

An neither A. J. Berry, manager of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. nor Fred E. Guthery, company attorney, could be reached today. It was impossible to verify a report that Marion customers of the company would be entitled to an additional refund on rates collected since Dec. 31, 1928. It was estimated on a tentative schedule of rates considered early this year by the commission that total refunds of $162,000 would be ordered.

The telephone company has the right to appeal the decision of the state commission to the Ohio supreme court on error within the next 30 days. As telephone company officials could not be reached, it was impossible to learn whether or not such an appeal is considered.

Talk Is Risky

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLEY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 27—Mr. Hoover is doing something that if I was touting him I don't believe I would let him do.

He is going into three or four states where the coming election is very hot, and going to make speeches, not political speeches, but nevertheless they are in those states. But even if he talks on the evils of Calineva, why it will be construed as political.

Funny thing about us, we will listen to any old shyster politician that comes along to advise us, but we just won't trust any of our Presidents when we think they are trying to tell us who to elect.

DEMOCRATIC RULE IN N. Y. ATTACKED

Tuttle, G. O. P. Nominee for Governor, Opens War on Opposition.

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 27 — Allegations of Democratic inefficiency in state government coupled with the scandals involving certain Democratic office holders in New York City and Albany, will be the objects of attack by the Republican chieftains in the coming state campaign.

This was indicated by the speeches of permanent chairman Joseph A. McGinnies and Charles H. Tuttle, gubernatorial nominee, at yesterday's session of the Republican state convention. McGinnies attacked conditions in the prisons and the state department of public works, while Tuttle devoted most of his address to the investigation of judicial corruption in New York City.

That the traditionally dry party was fighting for a man opposed to prohibition and that it had pledged itself in convention to seek repeal of the nation's dry law was expected to matter little, as the party chiefs believed that they had taken the prohibition issue of the compaign by taking almost the same stand on the questions as the Democrats.

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will be nominated for another term by the Democrats, has come out for repeal of the eighteenth amendment. The Democratic convention will open Monday at Syracuse.

Republican leaders professed not to be worried by defections. Independent drys announced soon after the Republican convention adjourned yesterday that they would put a third ticket in the field. Who their gubernatorial candidate would be was not determined.

Mr. Tuttle accepted the nomination by a speech which mapped the plan of campaign.

The purpose of the league, as indicated by its title, is to reduce taxes. The right of initiative and referendum in a statewide organization would be used by the league to give Ohio people the right to express themselves on laws affecting taxation if they are found unsatisfactory to the league

Elimination of offices deemed not necessary and which the league feels cannot be afforded is one of the methods the league will employ to reduce taxes.

An example of public expenditures not deemed necessary by Dr. Smith are the employment of county school superintendents and county health commissioners. They are not needed and cannot be afforded, Dr. Smith declared.

Charity To All

A SERMONETTE

BY REV. B. TYLER GATES
Pastor St. Paul's English Lutheran Church
Text Luke X:25-37

THIS parable spoken by our Lord strikes directly at the heart of all narrowness, conceit and snobbery and portrays the true nature and extent of relationships between man and man. The heart and foundation of human relationships is charity if those relations are to be normal and wholesome. The word charity as I use it has the same meaning that St. Paul gives to it in the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians: "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not charity I am become as sounding brass and tinkling symbol." Paul means here that without love there is no true religion, all else is secondary to love. All wisdom, all eloquence, all power and position, all angelic character is shallow and vain unless there is love and charity at the basis of it. There is no christianity without love, no true religion without love. This is what Christ wished to get into the mind of the lawyer who stood up to tempt him. He wanted him to see the narrowness of his religion and to get a broader and more human view of his relation with men.

The lawyer opened the conversation with the question, "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" It was not a sincere question. He wished to entangle Jesus in the web of Pharisaic sophistry, not to obtain information. The lawyer was compelled to answer the question himself for Jesus sensed his motive and turned the question upon him.

The two were in full agreement as to the answer. It was the commonly accepted law that we should "love the Lord with all our soul and with all our strength and with all our mind and our neighbor as ourself." But the lawyer defeated in his purpose was not satisfied and asked another question, "Who is my neighbor?" This time they did not agree. The idea of a neighbor whom one should love as he loves himself was far broader in the mind of Jesus than in the mind of the scribe. The love of a scribe was confined to the narrow limits of his own nation and members of his own church but Jesus loved all men regardless of their race, creed or social standing. There should likewise be no narrow limits to the love and neighborliness of a Christian. Our love should extend beyond the bounds of home, family, nation, friends, lodge or any other locality or institution. If one is a true Christian the boundaries of narrow denominationalism should make no difference in his love to man.

The parable which was the answer to the question of the lawyer revealed the true extent of love. It was spoken to elevate the vision of the scribe from the little hills and valley of his own conceit and self love to the greater hills and greener valleys that lay beyond. Step by step he saw that first the priest did not prove to be a true friend and neighbor, then the Levite failed to extend the proper love but the hated Samaritan stopped and cared for the stricken man as a true brother and fulfilled the law of love and neighborliness. A hated, despised and unrighteous Samaritan had leaped the bounds of all man made and artificial distinctions and put the scribe to shame by an act of love.

Charity to all men regardless of race or creed is the true spirit of Christianity. What is the extent of our love to men? Is it limited to some little denomination or country or do you see the hills of humanity where other men live and worship and love and rejoice and sorrow as you do? They are your neighbors, nay they are your brothers whom you should love as you love yourself. Let us take a lesson from the parable of the Good Samaritan and "Go and do thou likewise."

CHICAGO SUICIDE MAY BE MARION YOUTH

Mrs. Ben F. Young To View Body in Police Morgue Today.

Possibility that a man who ended his life early Thursday in Chicago might be Chester Young, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Young of 682 Gay street, was expressed today by members of the family.

Mrs. Young left at midnight last night for Chicago to view the body in a police morgue. Whether it is that of her son will not be known until tonight when she returns it was said. The unidentified man ended his life by shooting himself at the rear of a church near the Chicago railway station.

Young has been in Davenport, Ia., with an aviation school and his parents have not heard from him for several weeks. A railroad ticket for Marion, found on the body of the youth who killed himself in Chicago, is reported to have carried a Davenport cancellation and to have been the unused portion of a ticket from Davenport to Marion.

The Marion youth left this summer for Lincoln Neb., and finally became associated with the Davenport aviation school. For a while letters were received regularly but none has come in the last few weeks, the family reported. One letter, sent to Genesee, Ill., where Young had spent some time at air races, came back unclaimed, it is reported.

Friends of the Young family in Chicago viewed the body yesterday but were not certain it was the Marion youth. Clothing on the body bore the trademark of a Columbus department store, according to information they sent to the Young family.

Numerous other Marion families have called local police for information on the case. In each instance, the family has been personally interested since the description of the body answers to that of a son.

COUNCIL HAS LIVELY DEBATE ON GAS RATE

Adjourns Without Taking Action on New Marion Proposal of Company.

Compares Gas, Water Fights

Comparing the gas question with the water rate question that faced the city several years ago, Attorney Fred Warner opposed any thought of settlement of the rate case at this time He urged council to wait on action of the courts and utilities commission.

Claiming he unofficially represented 95 percent of Marion citizens, John Clark urged council to let the commission and courts "who understand the case" settle the rate fight instead of attempting local settlement of the case. The gas company has more than Marion at stake in its attempt to settle the local rate, Clark charged

Since Marion was ringleader in a fight against increased gas rates, the company is anxious to settle the local fight to pave the way for similar settlements in other cities and villages involved in the fight, Clark charged

Doubts Quick Settlement

E M. Tharpe, assistant general manager of the gas company, replied briefly to the charges of the various speakers He predicted more than a few months will be required for settlement of the rate fight in courts and the utilities commission

"The gas company only wants a square deal We're not asking anything unfair," Tharpe said.

The proposal read last night calls for $1 for the first 500 cubic feet of gas and 60 cents a thousand cubic feet for all over the first 500 feet for a period of six years, with an increase to $1.50 for the first 500 feet and 60 cents a thousand for all above that amount in the seventh year of a seven-year contract

gested for the depression. The real remedy would be COURAGE.

We have nothing to complain of in America, except that we have TOO MUCH of everything, from sugar to oil, cotton to wheat, coal to money.

You can borrow money on call at one per cent, buy sugar for four cents a pound, buy cotton for less than its costs to produce it, and wheat for a price that, "on the farms," does not pay the farmer for his labor.

We have everything we had a year ago except the courage of 1929 and that financial wisdom that melts in the heat of depression as little white mushrooms shrivel under the noonday sun.

LEAGUE OPENS WAR ON WET CANDIDATES

Ohio Dry Organization Plans Vigorous Campaign For Fall.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept 27— District superintendents and the headquarters committee of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league today voted to vigorously campaign against all wet candidates for state and national offices in the November election.

S P McNaught, superintendent of the Ohio league, said that every county will be organized for the fight to elect dry men and that dry workers will be placed in every precinct of the state

McNaught said every effort will be made by the league "to defeat Mr Bulkley." The statement referred to Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, Democratic senatorial nominee.

"The campaign statement of Mr Bulkley that he was for state control of the liquor traffic is considered by the drys as ridiculous and inconsistent in view of the fact that as a congressman, Mr Bulkley voted against the Webb Kenyon act which was designed to give the dry states the protection he now claims he is for," McNaught said.

American interests in Cuba use it almost exclusively among the native banks for their operations.

Board of Trade Acts To Protect Market

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 27—A sturdy stockade was thrown up today by the Chicago board of trade to protect weakening American wheat values against Russian bear raids.

In a resolution, unprecedented in the board's 60-year history, its directors yesterday branded the selling of wheat futures by any foreign government a "new development of commerce of seriously objectionable character" and decreed "it must be brought to an end."

The action, announced in a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde whose charges of short selling by Soviet Russia initiated an investigation by the board, included a new injunction to put an end to bear raids and price manipulations.

CANTON JURY FAILS TO AGREE

Discharged After Futile Effort To Decide on Graft Trial Verdict.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept 27 - The government's second prosecution in its war upon an alleged graft conspiracy between former Canton officials and the underworld "jungle" was ended in a hung jury.

The jury of eight men and four women who heard the trial of Ellis Darany, former Canton police sergeant; Mike Smith, confectioner; and John Gust, operator of a coffee house and pool room was discharged at 10:02 p m last night after failing to reach a verdict in nearly eight hours deliberation.

Fred Denzler, federal court clerk, received the disagreement report and discharged the jury

Darany was charged with having been a ring-leader in a reputed protection ring for vice and liquor operators Admitted Canton bootleggers testified they paid thousands of dollars to Darany and in return were allowed to operate without interference. Darany, who retired after 20 years on the Canton police force, was head of the vice squad

The prosecution contended that the three defendants gathered on Mondays in Smith's store to receive the payments.

The defense plea for acquittal was based on the claim that the government's case hinged upon witnesses from the "Jungle."

The trial, which opened Wednesday, followed that of Edward E Curtis, former Canton safety director who was convicted of conspiracy and sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta

Arthur B Drukenbrod, former councilman who was indicted with Curtis, pleaded guilty and was to be sentenced today.

Darany still faces trial on another indictment.

Charity To All

A SERMONETTE

BY REV. B. TYLER GATES
Pastor St. Paul's English Lutheran Church
Text Luke X:25-37

THIS parable spoken by our Lord strikes directly at the heart of all narrowness, conceit and snobbery and portrays the true nature and extent of relationships between man and man. The heart and foundation of human relationships is charity if those relations are to be normal and wholesome. The word charity as I use it has the same meaning that St. Paul gives to it in the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians: "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not charity I am become as sounding brass and tinkling symbol." Paul means here that without love there is no true religion, all else is secondary to love. All wisdom, all eloquence, all power and position, all angelic character is shallow and vain unless there is love and charity at the basis of it. There is no christianity without love, no true religion without love. This is what Christ wished to get into the mind of the lawyer who stood up to tempt him. He wanted him to see the narrowness of his religion and to get a broader and more human view of his relation with men.

The lawyer opened the conversation with the question, "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" It was not a sincere question. He wished to entangle Jesus in the web of Phariseeic sophistry, not to obtain information. The lawyer was compelled to answer the question himself for Jesus sensed his motive and turned the juestion upon him.

The two were in full agreement as to the answer. It was the commonly accepted law that we should "love the Lord with all our soul and with all our strength and with all our mind and our neighbor as ourself." But the lawyer defeated in his purpose was not satisfied and asked another question, "Who is my neighbor?" This time they did not agree. The idea of a neighbor whom one should love as he loves himself was far broader in the mind of Jesus than in the mind of the scribe. The love of a scribe was confined to the narrow limits of his own nation and members of his own church but Jesus loved all men regardless of their race, creed or social standing. There should likewise be no narrow limits to the love and neighborliness of a Christian. Our love should extend beyond the bounds of home, family, nation, friends, lodge or any other locality or institution. If one is a true Christian the boundaries of narrow denominationalism should make no difference in his love to man.

The parable which was the answer to the question of the lawyer revealed the true extent of love. It was spoken to elevate the vision of the scribe from the little hills and valley of his own conceit and self love to the greater hills and greener valleys that lay beyond. Step by step he saw that first the priest did not prove to be a true friend and neighbor, then the Levite failed to extend the proper love but the hated Samaritan stopped and cared for the stricken man as a true brother and fulfilled the law of love and neighborliness. A hated, despised and unrighteous Samaraman had leaped the bounds of all man made and artificial distinctions and put the scribe to shame by an act of love.

Charity to all men regardless of race or creed is the true spirit of Christianity. What is the extent of our love to men? Is it limited to some little denomination or country or do you see the hills of humanity where other men live and worship and love and rejoice and sorrow as you do? They are your neighbors, nay they are your brothers whom you should love as you love yourself. Let us take a lesson from the parable of the Good Samaritan and "Go and do thou likewise."

A system of religious education has been maintained in the Sunday school for the last years, and has been built up until it is approaching a high standard of efficiency, according to Rev. Lawrence A. Wood, pastor.

In the junior department of which Miss Grace Durfee is superintendent, a system of honors and rewards has been maintained. Besides stressing the study of the lesson, bringing Bibles and attending church, the junior department gives instruction in home and foreign missions, Bible drills, stories of how some of the hymns came to be written, extra memorizing of scripture, planning gifts for the needy, etc. This year a treasure chest was sent to the children in the Philippines.

A six point system has been observed throughout the year with the following points for honors: Attendance, punctuality in attendance, lesson prepared, bringing of Bible, offering, attending one church service a day.

Louise Gracely won the highest record for the year among the girls and John Gracely was first in the boys' division. Mary LeMasters and Harold Seiter were second.

Those whose quarterlies were filled out for the year are Ava Marie Powelson, Dorothy McClure and John Gracely. Louise Gracely has the honor of having completed her quarterlies over a three-year period.

Extra honor work was done by Harold Seiter and Ruth Yazel in drawing maps of Palestine.

Five booklets were made, as follows: "Of Scripture Quotations," Frank Greenwood; "Of the Story of Daniel," Jean Roberts; "Of the 100th Psalm," Jean Uncapher; "Of the Story of Queen Esther," Lillian Somerlot; "Of the Three Men in the Fiery Furnace," Alice Louise Smith.

William Wanner is in charge of the services at the Prospect Street M. E. church.

CHICAGO SUICIDE MAY BE MARION YOUTH

Mrs. Ben F. Young To View Body in Police Morgue Today.

Possibility that a man who ended his life early Thursday in Chicago might be Chester Young, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Young of 682 Gay street, was expressed today by members of the family.

Mrs. Young left at midnight last night for Chicago to view the body in a police morgue. Whether it is that of her son will not be known until tonight when she returns it was said. The unidentified man ended his life by shooting himself at the rear of a church near the Chicago railway station.

Young has been in Davenport, Ia., with an aviation school and his parents have not heard from him for several weeks. A railroad ticket for Marion, found on the body of the youth who killed himself in Chicago, is reported to have carried a Davenport cancellation and to have been the unused portion of a ticket from Davenport to Marion.

The Marion youth left this summer for Lincoln Neb., and finally became associated with the Davenport aviation school. For a while letters were received regularly but none has come in the last few weeks, the family reported. One letter, sent to Genesee, Ill., where Young had spent some time at air races, came back unclaimed, it is reported.

Friends of the Young family in Chicago viewed the body yesterday but were not certain it was the Marion youth. Clothing on the body bore the trademark of a Columbus department store, according to information they sent to the Young family.

Numerous other Marion families have called local police for information on the case. In each instance, the family has been personally interested since the description of the body answers to that of a son.

COUNCIL HAS LIVELY DEBATE ON GAS RATE

Adjourns Without Taking Action on New Marion Proposal of Company.

favoring settlement of the gas rate.

Compares Gas, Water Fights

Comparing the gas question with the water rate question that faced the city several years ago, Attorney Fred Warner opposed any thought of settlement of the rate case at this time. He urged council to wait on action of the courts and utilities commission.

Claiming he unofficially represented 95 percent of Marion citizens, John Clark urged council to let the commission and courts "who understand the case" settle the rate fight instead of attempting local settlement of the case. The gas company has more than Marion at stake in its attempt to settle the local rate, Clark charged.

Since Marion was ringleader in a fight against increased gas rates, the company is anxious to settle the local fight to pave the way for similar settlements in other cities and villages involved in the fight, Clark charged.

Doubts Quick Settlement

E. M. Tharpe, assistant general manager of the gas company, replied briefly to the charges of the various speakers. He predicted more than a few months will be required for settlement of the rate fight in courts and the utilities commission.

"The gas company only wants a square deal. We're not asking anything unfair," Tharpe said.

The proposal read last night calls for $1 for the first 500 cubic feet of gas and 60 cents a thousand cubic feet for all over the first 500 feet for a period of six years, with an increase to $1.50 for the first 500 feet and 60 cents a thousand for all above that amount in the seventh year of a seven-year contract.

Course of River Changed To Benefit City Plant

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 27—A new channel for the Whetstone river a short distance west of the bridge where the river is crossed by South Main street in Mt. Gilead, has been dug to assure better functioning of the Mt. Gilead sewage disposal plant. Outlets of the plant were left 20 or more feet from the stream in places where the course was changed to the south by erosion.

In order to correct this the city council recently purchased a parcel of land between the plant and the river. The land was owned by C. C. Millard.

gested for the depression. The real remedy would be COURAGE.

We have nothing to complain of in America, except that we have TOO MUCH of everything, from sugar to oil, cotton to wheat, coal to money.

You can borrow money on call at one per cent, buy sugar for four cents a pound, buy cotton for less than its costs to produce it, and wheat for a price that, "on the farms," does not pay the farmer for his labor.

We have everything we had a year ago except the courage of 1929 and that financial wisdom that melts in the heat of depression as little white mushrooms shrivel under the noonday sun.

LEAGUE OPENS WAR ON WET CANDIDATES

Ohio Dry Organization Plans Vigorous Campaign For Fall.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27— District superintendents and the headquarters committee of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league today voted to vigorously campaign against all wet candidates for state and national offices in the November election.

S. P. McNaught, superintendent of the Ohio league, said that every county will be organized for the fight to elect dry men and that dry workers will be placed in every precinct of the state.

McNaught said every effort will be made by the league "to defeat Mr. Bulkley." The statement referred to Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, Democratic senatorial nominee.

"The campaign statement of Mr. Bulkley that he was for state control of the liquor traffic is considered by the drys as ridiculous and inconsistent in view of the fact that as a congressman, Mr. Bulkley voted against the Webb-Kenyon act which was designed to give the dry states the protection he now claims he is for," McNaught said.

He is described as being between 23 and 26 years of age, and weighing about 140 pounds. A reward of $1,000 for information leading to his capture has been posted by the company.

BANK SUSPENDS

One of Oldest Institutions in Cuba Ceases Payments.

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, Sept. 27—The Banco Del Comercio, one of the oldest and most influential financial institutions in Cuba, suspended payments today after an all-night meeting of its directors.

The two vice presidents, F. Seigle and L. Lopez, who have been in charge since resignation last week of Porfirio Franca, president, said it was necessary for the institution to suspend operation "provisionally." No reasons were assigned for the failure.

The bank is over 50 years old, and was one of the few which survived the crash in 1921.

American interests in Cuba use it almost exclusively among the native banks for their operations.

Board of Trade Acts To Protect Market

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 27—A sturdy stockade was thrown up today by the Chicago board of trade to protect weakening American wheat values against Russian bear raids.

In a resolution, unprecedented in the board's 60-year history, its directors yesterday branded the selling of wheat futures by any foreign government a "new development of commerce of seriously objectionable character" and decreed "it must be brought to an end."

The action, announced in a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Hyde whose charges of short selling by Soviet Russia initiated an investigation by the board, included a new injunction to put an end to bear raids and price manipulations.

CANTON JURY FAILS TO AGREE

Discharged After Futile Effort To Decide on Graft Trial Verdict.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 27— The government's second prosecution in its war upon an alleged graft conspiracy between former Canton officials and the underworld "jungle" was ended in a hung jury.

The jury of eight men and four women who heard the trial of Ellis Darany, former Canton police sergeant; Mike Smith, confectioner; and John Gust, operator of a coffee house and pool room, was discharged at 10:02 p. m. last night after failing to reach a verdict in nearly eight hours deliberation.

Fred Denzler, federal court clerk, received the disagreement report and discharged the jury.

Darany was charged with having been a ring-leader in a reputed protection ring for vice and liquor operators. Admitted Canton bootleggers testified they paid thousands of dollars to Darany and in return were allowed to operate without interference. Darany, who retired after 20 years on the Canton police force, was head of the vice squad.

The prosecution contended that the three defendants gathered on Mondays in Smith's store to receive the payments.

The defense plea for acquittal was based on the claim that the government's case hinged upon witnesses from the "Jungle."

The trial, which opened Wednesday, followed that of Edward E. Curtis, former Canton safety director, who was convicted of conspiracy and sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Arthur R. Drukenbrod, former councilman who was indicted with Curtis, pleaded guilty and was to be sentenced today.

Darany still faces trial on another indictment.

Great Britain reports an increase in the number of American tourists this year and France, a falling-off. One of these days the French may get next to the fact that American travelers have become sick and tired of being gypped.

A Munich cable reports that, Mr. Ford having refused to receive leaders of the Hitler party, they, the German Fascists, approached the Ford staff with a proposal that he support the Fascist cause with a donation of 20,000,000 marks—about $4,800,000. Over here in America that would be termed something in the nature of racketeering.

A Distinctive Honor.

The election of Frank B. Kellogg by the council and assembly of the League of Nations to succeed himself and serve for a term of nine years beginning the first of next January as one of the fifteen judges of the Permanent Court of International Relations at The Hague is a distinctive honor most worthily bestowed.

In his private practice in his home state of Minnesota and his home city of St. Paul, as "trust buster" under President Roosevelt, in his handling of cases in many state and federal courts, Mr. Kellogg made manifest his high legal attainments. His experience in the United States senate, as ambassador at the Court of St. James and as secretary of state severally and jointly were broadening in their influence, and his co-authorship of the Paris pact renouncing war as an instrument of national policy augmented the fame which was already his to worldwide proportions.

But despite all this, it is difficult for this newspaper to understand the manifest jubilation in Europe over his election as a presaging of the sure entrance of the United States into the World court. Other distinguished Americans have occupied places on the World court bench, and yet we are not as a nation committed. True, changes have been made to smooth our way in, and the method of Mr. Kellogg's election was that proposed by Elihu Root at the formation of the court, whereby the candidate must obtain the majority in both the assembly and the council of the league voting seperately and virtually simultaneously, and all the circumstances may combine to influence the senate to ratify the World court statute, acceptance of which means American entrance into the court. The election may, as Eurepean advices hint is felt in some quarters, strengthen the Hoover administration. Certainly the action of the assembly and council of the league in electing Mr. Kellogg to the full term as well as to the vacancy on the bench can do the administration no harm. But this newspaper is reluctant to believe that the honor bestowed upon Mr. Kellogg was motived simply by a desire to get this country into the World court. We prefer to believe that the primary and impelling reason for his election was recognition of his great understanding of the law and his eminent fitness in all respects for the place.

Four Lootings Cleared Up.

The recent lootings of the Waldo and Martel school buildings and a filling station at Big Island have been cleared up by the confessions of two local young men and the recovery of the greater part of their loot. The two having entered guilty pleas in municipal court to participation in the three jobs, each will be held, in the event of his failure to produce bonds aggregating $7,500, to await the action of the grand jury.

While it is possible that, ultimately they would have been arrested for the three Marion county jobs, the arrests of the two were precipitated by a job pulled off over in Union county, where they added to the total of their previous follies by making the very serious mistake of looting a freight car at Richwood. Erie railroad detectives at once got busy on the Richwood case, and the running down of that led to the apprehension and linking up of the two with the three jobs in this county.

There was fine cooperation by and between the local police department and the Erie detectives in developing the Marion county cases and securing confessions and by the sheriff's office in the recovery of the loot, cooperation deserving of commendation, but the point we are seeking to bring out is how fully the present case bears out a statement made in these columns, some weeks since, in which statistics were offered to show the extra hazard run by any criminal who steals goods committed to a railroad for transportation or commits any crime or offense against the property of a railroad company.

Statistics show that, while all other lines of crime have been steadily increasing, there has been a steady decrease in stealings from the railroads and the looting of railroad cars and warehouses, the result of the uncompromising attitude of the railroads toward crime. Other corporations are often content to compromise on the return of the loot or making good for it, and this is often true of individuals who have been robbed, but it is not true of the course of the railroads. They not only run down the criminals, but see to it that they are penalized for their crimes. Their detective forces are not only alert, but also perzevering. Once on a case, they follow it, if necessary, for years. A trail once established, they cling to it until the guilty have been run down, with the result that they "get their man" in an overwhelming majority of cases. It's the rare exception when they do not apprehend the guilty and bring about the punishment prescribed by law.

The young Italian student who attempted to assassinate Crown Prince Humbert of Italy, last October, told the court when his trial was called that his hatred of Fascism was responsible for his attempt on the prince's life. Had he any brains at all, he would have realized that, in regard to Fascism, he and Humbert had a common feeling.

Following a visit in Boston, Mayor Reuben Salter, of the English town of the same name, says that one can fairly swim in liquor in the big city on Massachusetts bay, and for the life of us we can not figure out whether the British mayor is merely knocking prohibition enforcement or has been subsidized by the Bostonese to advertise their municipality.

President Hoover has been informed by former Senator Calder, of Brooklyn, New York, that the Republican party "never can hope for success in New York until it takes a firm stand for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and started all over again." The British statisticians figure that the 133,000 American tourists who visited England last year made average stays of fifteen days and expended $40,000,000. If they got off that cheaply they must have spent at least fourteen days outside London.

An Argentine postoffice has reported that a missing package mailed in New York City to an importing firm in Buenos Aires was placed in the lost parcel room of the postoffice there, because the firm to which it was addressed could not be located, and was subsequently "entirely eaten up by rats." Lieutenant Commander D. B. Editorial Opinion.

THE RECRUDESCENCE OF LYNCHING.

Southern leaders of popular opinion, it is reported, are planing to conduct a new inquiry into the causes of mob violence in the United States. For the facts in regard to recent lynchings are depressing enough. An unbiased study of the recrudescence of that evil, which had been regarded as a dying relic of barbarous conditions now practically extinct, is needed in order that more effective methods of control and prevention may be devised.

Already more lynchings have taken place in the United States this year than were written in red in the whole of last year. Some states in which lynchings once were most frequent have had their first cases of mob violence in a decade or more.

How these painful facts are to be accounted for remains undetermined. Recent instances of lynching must be investigated where they occurred, efforts being made to ascertain the antecedent and attendant circumstances of the several outbreaks.

White citizens of eminence as well as negro educators and trained sociologists, it is announced, will take part in the projected investigation. The undertaking not only is important in itself but affords a gratifying indication of improved interracial relations in the South.—Chicago News.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS.

While the United States is struggling with its grade crossing problem, the supreme court of Japan announces that henceforth no damages can be collected by the motorist hit by a train. This is on the theory that the responsibility for being on the track rests entirely on the motorist.

Japan's population is about half that of the United States, while its area equals that of North and South Dakota combined. The railroad passenger traffic is enormous. The number of automobiles, however, is only about a hundred thousand.

So the court regards maintenance of train service of paramount importance, compared with efforts to preserve the lives of "idiots who race trains to crossings." It is up to the Japanese motorist to see that he does not drive on a grade crossing without extreme caution. If he does, he must take the consequences.

Sometimes it is difficult to get the Japanese viewpoint. But there is a certain degree of validity in the Japanese court dictum about motorists' responsibility for their own safety. —Minneapolis Journal

Clinton County's Namesake.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Most people suppose that Clinton county, Ohio, was named in honor of DeWitt Clinton, governor of New York, but the fact is that it was in honor of his uncle, George Clinton. Both these Clintons were notable, namely, because of their part in the construction of the New York canals; DeWitt Clinton's name is principally fixed in the public mind as the author and finisher of these canals, but as a matter of fact, the canal plan was conceived by George Clinton; and that it was his nephew who, succeeding later to the executive office, put the plans into execution.

But George Clinton's the most famous name. He received votes for the federal executive office when Washington was elected the first time. His own state gave him support for the presidency in 1808. He was elected a delegate to the second Continental congress in 1775, and narrowly and by accident missed being "a signer." Franklin county, it has been noted, bears the name of a signer, Benjamin Franklin. Clinton had received an imperative order as a militia general to take command of the troops in the New York highlands and had left Philadelphia when the declaraton was adopted and signed.

But with his name there goes to the Ohio county the honor of having been the mother of a vice president of the United States. The vice president has been, from the first, viewed inconsequentially. Not many know, therefore, that George Clinton was elected vice president in 1804 and served until he died in 1812.

Seven Rules for New Mother.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

God couldn't be everywhere so He made mothers. They have the hardest, but the best of Jobs. They are ever eager to give proper care to their babies.

Every month in the year is a difficult one for every mother. It is particularly difficult for the mother of very young children.

Today I want to talk to the new mothers. Every year thousands of babies are born in homes where there are no other children. It is an entirely new experience for the young mother. Naturally it is greater than that of the experienced mother.

It occurs to me I might outline some of the important things which will help to keep your baby well and happy. Suppose I give these suggestions under seven heads:

A baby is a beautiful flower in God's garden. Treat it as such, but not quite as you would a flower. Fortunately it is less tender than a flower.

During certain hours every day in the year, except in the rare time of a terrible storm, the baby should be taken out-of-doors. Fresh air, day and night, is absolutely necessary.

The feedings must be accurately and carefully made. In their preparation clean hands and clean utensils are essential.

The baby must be fed at regular times. You must be regular as clockwork in this matter.

Two-thirds of the weight of the human body is water. All the functions are carried on by organs and tissues which must be kept moist. To this end lots of water must be given the baby.

Don't wait until the infant suffers from thirst and cries in protest. Give boiled and cooled water at regular intervals.

A normal infant sleeps from twenty to twenty-two hours out of every twenty-four. All the surroundings must be arranged with reference to comfortable and undisturbed sleep.

Whether you believe in the germ theory or not, you certainly believe in cleanliness. Never forget that the body, nose, mouth, the clothing, feeding outfits and all the toys of the infant must be included in your efforts at cleanliness.

It is more important for the baby to use the muscles than it is for the grown-up. Spread a clean sheet or quilt on the floor in a sunny room and let the youngster stretch and kick and coo to its heart's content. This will develop strength and promote health.

Don't resort to "pacifiers," rubber rings and other things to chew on. Keep the infant's thumb out of the mouth. Start right and keep right as regards baby's habits.

Of course, the things I outline do not cover everything you must know about a baby's care. But these suggestions will be a help if you follow them without neglecting to take your own doctor's good advice.

Airship Development.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

A brief survey of the progress of dirigible development in very recent years indicates a great field for the intensive display of inventive science. Everything points to the belief that the United States should be the leader in this great and growing industry, now looming up as so indispensable in both peace and war.

In peace times the dirigible enjoys two immense advantages over the airplane—the largest measure of comfort in travel and the greatest cruising radius. Its advantages in war time have not been so clearly demonstrated. Not all the ultimate advantages have as yet been fully demonstrated.

But no detailed argument is needed to show that the dirigible will prove an extremely valuable tool for national defense. As the eyes of the army and navy, dirigibles can maintain a constant surveillance of enemy movements far beyond the range attainable by airplanes.

Serious accidents and disasters in the earlier stages of this country's interest in airship construction retarded its progress.

Notable were the depressing effect of the collapse of the British R-38, with the loss of a number of American lives, among others, and the Shenandoah disaster. The impression grew that the dirigible was uncertain and hazardous; that the margin of failure and wreckage was far too great. The enormous cost of the dirigible was a big factor in the situation, as well as the life hazards. No government cares to embark upon huge campaigns of expenditure in the construction of machines which have only a very brief and precarious existence.

This government has been actively interested in the subject of airship development. When the two small commercial models built in Germany after the war were confiscated, development there came to a complete standstill.

For several years following the armistice, Great Britain, saddled with a great load of war debt, eliminated dirigible development from its program. The airships turned over to France, Italy and Japan, following the close of the war, were unsuccessful in stimulating further interest in their control, study and development.

A faith in the future of the rigid airship and intervention to uphold the development of the Zeppelin industry in Germany marked the foresight of the American government, and in particular the American navy.

Our acquisition of the German built Los Angeles enabled the Zeppelin company to go forward with its work, resulting in the construction of the Graf Zeppelin. Great Britain at last began to wake up to the importance of this neglected industry, and has now definitely embarked upon an importane and gradual enlarging program.

It has been estimated that for every $100 spent on airplanes in this country, only one dollar has been spent on airships. The public awakening of interest in the rigid airship following the magnificient achievements of the Graf Zeppelin, bids fair to cause the beginning, soon, toward closing up this great gap.—Copyright, 1930, International Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Hits from New Show Make Up WJZ Broadcast

HIT numbers from Joe Cook's new show, "Fine and Dandy," the score of which has never been broadcast, constitute a musical scoop that is a feature of the Fuller program Saturday at 6.30 p. m. over the WJZ network.

Ordinarily producers of musical comedies and revues do not permit the melodies of a new show to be broadcast for several weeks, or months, after the production opens. However, special arrangements have been made to allow the Fuller cast to do three melodies as an ensemble number which will bring before the microphone Earle Spicer, featured baritone, the Fuller quartet, and the orchestra conducted by Don Voorhees, who orchestrated the last Joe Cook show, "Rain or Shine," organized a band for it, and wielded the baton during its long run on Broadway.

Operatives who have seen "Fine and Dandy" either in rehearsal or during its out of town tryouts report that the three hits are "Fine and Dandy," "Can This Be Love" and "The Jig Hop." These are the numbers which will be heard during the Fuller Program.

Just Things

BY EDNA S. DUTTON

Little Helps

THE rural dweller who in this day and age takes as much and sometimes more interest in his lawn and surroundings as his city cousin might join with the forest rangers their plaint in regard to folks who travel and evidently forget. At least they will find something of a kindred feeling in the items of a want notice sent out by the California District of the Forest Service. Here are some of their wants: Matches that use their heads when their owners don't; cigarets without a forest fire in a trainload; cigars that go out when dropped; empty cans that automatically roll themselves into garbage pits; newspapers that decompose when left lying around; signs that rebound the bullets at vandal shooters; campers who never fail to extinguish their camp fires with water; motorists who carry ash receivers in their cars and use them; hunters who only shoot after they see horns; fishermen who never clean their catch in a stream or lake; tourists without a mania for writing their names on sign boards, nature lovers who do not destroy the flowers, shrubs and trees; good citizens who realize their responsibility to prevent forest fires.

Procrastination

WHAT punishment folks who procrastinate deal out to themselves, and how they long to wring the necks of those who always seem to have done what they had to do at the right time. It's easier to face a firing squad, or at least seems that way, than to meet the person you promised to attend to a little matter as a favor and have to turn on the apologies and what agony is there to compare with the sudden realization that the letter which should have been answered moons ago remains as it. Next to being caught chewing gum at a time when one has a yen to go over in a big way it's the worst ever.

THERE must be something in a name after all, and restaurant menus will prove it. Just look at all the enticing and at times bewildering names one finds and when the order arrives it's the same old potato, carrot or string bean The lowly turnip even was glorified in a menu the other day by being designated as turnip supreme What really happened was that it had been cooked slowly in butter an' dressed up with white sauce. But it was good.

One of the great unsolved problems: What to do after working hours.

Best we can do for China—and about all—is to wish her well.

CHAPTER 22

Out of Woman?

...ER, Thorne's assistant ... the room, with Dr. ... assistant coroner. ... Mitchell the landlady ... her in a worn suit ...

... Wingate when Jim ... introduces Mitchell, taking ... brief look at the dead ... brought him over in my ... who is she?"

... landlady, the last to ... courage to speak. ... Lawrence," she stam... ... white lips. "She's ... going on two months, as ... as ever I want to see. ... nothing I can do?" ... wrung her hands.

"We'll let you know, madam," Wingate spoke sympathetically. "If you will wait downstairs, we'll talk to you later."

Wingate's examination was completed quickly and he looked up at Mitchell.

"Help me move her chair back from the table," he suggested, but it was Thorne who came to his assistance while Jim drew out the drawer at the same time, so that it and her hands moved back simultaneously with her body to the chair.

With intense curiosity the men gathered about and gazed down into the drawer. It was filled, apparently, with odds and ends, handkerchiefs, scarfs and feminine knickknacks. Toward the front and directly under Mrs. Lawrence's hands were scraps of paper torn and twisted. Mitchell pinked up the pieces and spread them out but the pictures and type were so mutilated as creases and wear that they were unreadable and unrecognizable.

"Some newspaper clippings," he announced. "The poor soul must have destroyed them in her last convulsion. What's that in her hands?"

Wingate and Thorne turned the hands over and loosened the fingers about a twisted piece of paper to which they still clung. Mitchell picked up the strip and put the torn edges together.

"What's this—'The Dancing Silhouette,'" he read aloud. "And that's all" turning the strip over. As he lifted his head to glance up at his companions, his eyes fell on Mrs. Lawrence's arms from which the loose sleeves of her tea-gown had dropped back. From shoulder to elbow the flesh was covered with red needle scars. "Hello, so she took dope!"

"An overdose?" he questioned, pointing to the dead woman.

It was not Wingate who replied but the stranger. "I am Dr. Sands, Inspector Mitchell," he explained. "Mrs. Lawrence has been ill off and on since her stay in Washington and I have attended her. I warned her of her dangerous heart condition. Angina," he said significantly.

"I see." Wingate nodded. "That would explain this" with a pitying glance at the dead woman. "However, there will have to be an inquest and a post-mortem examination. You will be called, Dr. Sands."

Thorne lifted the dead woman in his strong arms and carried her to the large brass bed in the next room. As he laid her down and withdrew his supporting arm from under her head, the button on his coat sleeve caught in her wig and dragged it off.

"Holy mackerel!" ejaculated Jim, startled out of his usual silence when he saw the woman's shaven head and the hideous scar as he went to Thorne's assistance.

"A burn, evidently," remarked Wingate. "It's a wonder she survived it."

"Ever hear her speak of any relatives, Dr. Sands?" asked Mitchell.

The physician shook his head.

"Mrs. Lawrence was not communicative," he explained. "While she waxed voluble at times she never discussed herself."

Mitchell scratched his head meditatively. "In that case we can't notify her relatives." He turned suddenly to Thorne. "Say, what brought you here?" giving him inquisitively.

Ignoring the question, Thorne stepped once more into the little sitting room and went quickly through the tumbled contents of the table drawer. The other half of the Dresden sanitarium bill was not in it, however.

After a few courteous words to Dr. Sands, Inspector Mitchell left the way downstairs, but while he stopped to speak to the landlady, Thorne accompanied Jim to the latter's automobile.

"Send this wire to Captain O'Brien, police department, Chicago," he explained, scribbling the message even as he spoke and tearing out the sheet from his notebook. "Then go through the rogues gallery at headquarters and see if Mrs. Lawrence was ever mugged."

The last was almost whispered in Jim's ears. "I get ye," he mumbled in reply stuffing the paper in his pocket. "But what about taking this gas to your car?"

"Do that later, then join me at Oaklands Park the car on the highway near the entrance and wait for me." Thorne turned back to the boarding house as Jim started on his errand; at the gate he met Mitchell just leaving.

"Can I give you a lift?" the latter inquired seeing Jim drive away from the curb.

"Thanks, yes, let me get my hat," and before Mitchell could say more Thorne bolted back into the house. He found his hat where he had dropped it near the staircase, but instead of joining Mitchell immediately he stepped again into the front parlor.

Mrs. Sims looked up at his entrance and struggled to rise, but Thorne stopped her.

"Here is my card," he took one as he spoke from his bill folder. "My phone number is there also; please call me if you need assistance, that is, as to money," noting her startled look; "funeral arrangements for Mrs. Lawrence will have to be made."

"That is what distracts me," admitted Mrs. Sims; she liked Thorne instinctively and placed confidence in the big, silent man. "To think of her being put in the Potter's field—the poor dear." She wrung her hands. "I have no idea where she was from, what part of the country, nor the names of any relatives."

"You took her in on faith alone?" with a sharp, questioning look.

The landlady colored to the roots of her hair. "Mrs. Lawrence paid a month in advance and didn't question the price," she said simply.

"Was Mrs. Lawrence amply supplied with money?"

"Lately, p'haps she was more careful," she acknowledged. "There was some hitch two or three days ago at the Metropolis bank about some check."

"I see." Thorne smiled down at the nervous little lady. "Tell me, Mrs. Sims, did Mrs. Lawrence receive much company?"

The landlady shook her head. "No."

"Tonight," insinuatingly. "Think, Mrs. Sims."

Mary, the latter's daughter, who had been a rapt listener, broke into the conversation. "She told me, after you went out, Ma, to let whoever come and asked for her right upstairs," she volunteered. "And so when the gentleman came about 8 o'clock, I showed him right up."

"Ah!" Thorne looked at the young girl, much pleased. "And what was he like—this caller?"

The girl shook her head. "There wasn't much light." Observing Thorne's disappointment, she added: "He was 'bout middle height and wrapped up in his coat. He had nice teeth, though, and a pleasant smile—that's all I saw—just his mouth."

"Thorne, oh, Thorne?" Inspector Mitchell's voice boomed through the house as he poked his head inside the front door. "Come along."

"In a second!"! Thorne turned swiftly back to mother and daughter and addressed the latter in a low voice. "Are you quite sure Mrs. Lawrence's visitor was a man?"

The young girl's eyes almost popped out of her head.

"Why, eh, why, eh," she stammered. "his voice was very soft and low—that's all I know."

To Be Continued.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE HARRISON

The Young Folks Depart for the Ballroom

I DID not subscribe to Noel's opinion of young Mr. Cameron, although I had no liking for the conceited talkie star. I, too, had heard the usual stories of his exploits, but I knew what exaggeration there was in stories about theatrical people and discounted them heavily. A handsome, pleasing, overrated, conceited youth, who possessed great attraction for romantic young women—this was my secret opinion of him, and I smiled tolerantly at Noel's heat.

"I'm sure you are mistaken, Noel," I said. "Remember that Mr. Underwood knows the theatrical world inside out. He would not have permitted young Cameron to breathe the same air as Marion if the young man were the kind you think him to be. And I am sure your father would not have brought him either. "But, dear boy," I laid my hand on his arm, "I know exactly what you're going through, and it isn't particularly pleasant for you. But the worst is over. Mr. Cameron cannot possibly monopolize Mary at the dance. She's by far the best dancer in the room you know, and every youth will want as many chances to dance with her as he can get. And with three extra men, she ought to be rushed all the evening. See that you cut in on her frequently. Then you'll get your share of dances. You ought to be proud of her, Noel." I spoke with a sudden heat, for the boy's behavior was disappointing, especially after my explanation to him and his promise to me, "instead of——"

"I'm not jealous of her," he finished my sentence. "That is, I'm not afraid of her liking anyone better than she does me. It isn't that. I can't express it as I should. I am jealous and afraid of her ambition. There's a fool idea about this Cameron and my father in the back of my mind that I can't get rid of. I'm not going to tell you what it is now, but perhaps you'll see for yourself tonight. I hope you won't. I hope I'm mistaken, but—wait and see!"

"If you were a woman I'd call you Cassandra," I said impatiently giving him a little shake. "But you don't look as disturbed as you did. That's one point gained. Now won't you be sensible and—"

Noel Speaks Cryptically

"It's what you said about Mr. Underwood that's made me feel easier," he said. "I felt as if I couldn't stand it to have that Cameron touch Mary—dance with her—if he were the bounder I thought him. But if he's just a harmless, conceited ass I'll play up as I promised. But—will you keep your eyes open and see if you don't agree with me on something when the evening's over?"

"You're very cryptic, Noel," I said impatiently, although [illegible] seeing him. I had time for only a second, however, for there came an impatient knock upon the door, and I opened it, to see Marion and Carolyn, their lovely faces flushed their eyes gleaming.

"Oh, Auntie Madge," Marion burst into clipped staccato speech "aren't you ready? Mother says we mustn't go down without you and we're all simply dying to dance. The evening is just slipping by."

"The evening is yet young, my darling," I told her, "but I shall go down this instant. Ask your Uncle Dicky to go down ahead and set the musicians to playing. Then you won't have to wait a single second after you get into the ball room."

"That's the swellest word, 'ballroom,'" she said as she and Carolyn hurried away. "Aren't you terribly thrilled, Carol?"

"I shall have hysterics in five minutes if we don't get to dancing," Carolyn replied, but long before the time she had set she and her mates were whirling around the floor waxed to perfection, and to the strains of an orchestra which patently, in the parlance of the youngsters, "knew its onions."

I felt a bit choky at the sheer beauty of the scene, for to me there is something appealing in the sight of well-bred young people enjoying a dance. And these youngsters were not only well bred, but unusually good looking and graceful as well. There was not a poor dancer among them, I decided, as I stood watching them, and even the least attractive of the girls, from the standpoint of beauty, was a skillful dancer and possessed of much charm.

"Mighty pretty scene," Charles Owen's voice drawled behind me. "But what's the matter with your step line?"

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUNE W. LEWIS

SATURDAY was the best day in the week. And it was so cold when I first woke up that I knew Jubilee would like it. But nothing the news and hot water could do to me on a morning like that would make me get up. I was warm and cozy and I was not going to get out of bed for anybody or anything. Then my mother and I had words and I got up and dressed in a hurry. I was mad, and for the life of me I couldn't think why I should be. Perhaps it was because I was mad at myself for getting mad at her. I don't know. But I was mad, and I was going to stay mad. I was going to be mad all day. Much interest centered today on the outcome of the Harding-Galion football battle. Whatever happens will probably be used to determine to some extent just about how far either of the teams may be expected to go in the 1930 N. C. O pennant chase. Harding goes into the battle a slight underdog due to performances of last week. How near the locals will come to beating Galion will probably depend to a large extent on how much improvement is shown in the blocking and tackling of the team over last Saturday. Harding's attack should be varied and strong enough to match that of Galion, but unless the tackling is more accurate than in the Toledo fracas the local team will be in for a bad afternoon.

After a lot of delays and postponement due to a variety of causes the Shovel-Star tennis tournament is destined to go into the final Stages Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. The finals of both the doubles and singles matches will be played at that time.

Despite the several delays and postponements, interest in the tourney has not lagged except in a few instances. Apparently the tennis playing public of Marion is in favor of such a tournament. The biggest drawback to the tourney as conducted this year seems to be the late date of starting. Next summer it is probable that such a tourney will be sponsored again but at an earlier date.

With the cinching yesterday of the St .Louis Cardinals of the National league pennant interest of baseball fans now turns to the results of the coming World's Series The series is scheduled to get under way Wednesday at Shibe park, the home grounds of the 1929 world champions, the Athletics.

Starting with the first ball thrown across the plate The Star will sponsor a scoreboard party in the front of the Star building. The board will give a complete account of the play received directly over the Associated Press wires. World series extras of The Star will be on the streets immediately after each of the games.

HARDING SET FOR GALION CLASH

LINEUP OF LOCALS SHIFTED, PASSES TO FIGURE IN OFFENSE

Sloan Replaces Alspach at End; Visitors Slight Favorites To Win.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

WITH a revamped lineup and a large variety of intricate plays stressing lateral passes and deceptive ball handling, Harding High's Presidents romped onto Fairground field this afternoon to clash with a fairly strong Galion team in the opening 1930 N. C. O. game for both teams In view of its fairly close game with Springfield High last Saturday while Harding was being decisively walloped by Toledo Central, Galion ruled the slight favorite to win by a small margin.

Harding was conceded a favorable chance to come through with its initial victory of the year despite the sentiment favoring the invading team The Bohyer-coached squad drilled hard all week, correcting faults which stood out in the Toledo fray and also in mastering the new lateral pass plays which are expected to play a large part in the offensive tactics of the local team today.

Lineup Shifted

Several changes were made in the starting lineup of the Harding team in comparison with the team which opened the Toledo game last week. Sloan replaced Alspach at the right flank with Lindsey taking a halfback position.

Unless Jupiter Pluvius comes through some time preceding the starting of the game with an over supply of moisture the Bohyer charges are expected to employ a lot of lateral passes in its offensive strategy. The team concentrated during most of the week's practice sessions on accurate lateral passing and is expected to use the aerial route to a large degree.

Other Teams Start

While Harding and Galion are battling for supremacy on the Fairground field, Mansfield, 1929 champs will be playing a non league foe, Danville, on the Mansfield gridiron. Danville figures to give the champs a tough game but it is not likely that the Murphy coached team will drop its first start. Ashland played a non league tilt yesterday with New London providing the opposition. No score had been reported when this was written.

Shelby and Bucyrus meet the toughest opposition of any of the N. C. O. teams with the exception of the Harding-Galion battle. Bexley High of Columbus plays the Redmen on the Columbus field and will give the N. C. O. team a hard game. Shelby may find difficulty in winning from a highly touted Norwalk outfit.

Jones Battles Homans in Final Amateur Match

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

MERION CRICKET CLUB, ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 27—Thirty-six rounds, "or less" and Robert T. Jones, Jr., either will have entered an inner sanctum of the golf temple where no foot ever has trod before, or been rebuffed at the very threshold.

The Atlanta lawyer sought his fourth major title of the year, an achievement never even approached before. He was in the final of the amateur championship for the seventh time.

Standing in the path of the heights was slim, bespectacled Eugene V. Homans

To win the right to oppose Jones, the 22-year-old Homans had to put on one of the most remarkable come-backs in the annals of the amateur championship. Big Charley Seaver, 19-year-old Los Angeles boy, was five up over the Jersey youth after 21 holes of their 36-hole match. Homans was never level until the 35th hole and not up until the 36th where he ended the match.

Jones' semi-final assignment was much easier. He won from Jess Sweetser, nine and eight, in a match in which he was never down, giving a display of skill that judged by the Jones brand of golf ranged from brilliancy to mediocrity and back again.

A's 13 to 10 Favorites To Win Championship

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Betting on the impending world series is fairly brisk, with the Philadelphia A's 13 to 10 favorites to win over the St. Louis Cardinals in the annual baseball classic. The wagering promises to be heavier than on any sports event of the year, according to Broadway commission brokers.

St Louis money is plentiful enough. A bet of $10,000 was laid today on the Cards at the prevailing 13 to 10 odds. Another $10,000 against the Cards.

CARDS CINCH TITLE WITH 10-5 VICTORY

Red Birds Beat Pirates To Win Third Pennant in Six Years.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

THE St. Louis Cardinals have clinched the championship two days before the end of the season. A bad fourth on August 1, St. Louis slammed out a 10 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday to finish the hot struggle for the flag and to gain the right to meet the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series beginning at Philadelphia Wednesday.

The triumph, the 21st for the St. Louis in the last 24 games left the Chicago Cubs in second place three games behind with only two to play.

Jess Haines pitched a fair game yesterday and the Red Birds backed him up with a hard and timely batting attack that produced 16 hits.

Watkins Starts Riot

In the fourt inning young George Watkins sent them off with a home run with two on base and the Cards batted clear around the lineup to score seven runs.

The Cubs clinched second place in the standing yesterday as Hack Wilson's 54th home run of the season gave them a 7 to 5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The Cubs now are three games ahead of the third place New York Giants and 3½ ahead of the Brooklyn Robins, both idle yesterday, and are safe so far as second place is concerned.

Hadley Loses

Bump Hadley of Washington who has an agreement with the Senators' management for a $500 bonus for every victory he turns in over the 15 he already has reached, failed to collect yesterday as the Boston Red Sox reached him for ten hits in seven innings and defeated the Senators, 7 to 1.

The champion Philadelphia Athletics gave the New York Yankees a trimming yesterday, 7 to 6.

Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox held the Detroit Tigers to five hits in one remaining game to win by a 3 to 1 count.

LA RUE HIGH VICTOR IN CLOSE BATTLE

Defeats Green Mt. Gilead Outfit 7-6; Wind Hampers Kicking.

MT. GILEAD, Sept. 27—With high winds hampering the punting during the game, LaRue High school turned in its second win of the year by defeating a green Mt. Gilead team 7 to 6 in a hard fought battle. Neither team showed any particular strength in any department of the game.

Mt. Gilead scored its only touchdown on a pass from Hanna to Richardson in the second quarter. D. Paynes attempt to drop kick for the extra point was wide. LaRue tallied its points in the first quarter following a series of end runs around the right flank of the losing team.

Mt. Gilead threatened to score again in the final period but LaRue held them four downs within the ten yard line to gain possession of the ball. The winner also recovered a fumble inside their own five yard line to get out of another tight place.

LaRue failed to complete any of seven attempted passes while Mt. Gilead completed three of nine tosses LaRue made six first downs and Mt. Gilead three.

200 Boy Scouts See State-Mt. Union Game

Nearly 200 boys in charge of Scout Executive W. C. Brown and assistants made the trip to Columbus today to be visitors of the Ohio State university athletic board at the Ohio State-Mt. Union football game This number is an increase of about 70 over the number who went to the opening game last season.

The groups left Marion about 10 a. m. and will return immediately following the game.

SERIES NOW EVEN

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 27—All even at one victory apiece, the Rochester Redwings and Louisville Colonels prepared for the third game of the little world's series today. Some effective pitching by the crack Rochester right hander, John Berly, enabled the Redwings to deadlock the series yesterday, 7-1.

LIPTON TO AGAIN RACE FOR TROPHY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—Reconsidering a previous decision, Sir Thomas Lipton again will challenge for the America's cup, yacht racing's greatest trophy.

His Shamrock V was soundly trounced by the Enterprise at Newport early this month but Sir Thomas, on the eve of his departure for England, said he would return soon with another challenger for the cup.

"Within two years?" he was asked.

"Two years pooh!" he replied. "I'll challenge shortly."

1930 Grid Rule Explanations

ANSWERS

1. The penalty for encroachment upon the neutral zone is five yards with down and point to be gained remaining the same.

2. In all cases it is the impetus which caused the ball to cross the goal line that decides between a touchback and a safety. If team carries, passes or kicks ball across own goal safety may result. If passed or kicked across the line into the field of play and it strikes an opponent or team mate and rebounds into end zone the original impetus is considered to have come from the team kicking the ball. If offensive team kicks passes or fumbles ball into defensive teams end zone it may be a touchback.

3. It is a touchback only when player B recovers in end zone and it is declared dead or when ball goes out of bounds of end zone on play. If A. had recovered ball in end zone it would have been a touchdown.

4. When player comes out of line of scrimmage he must be five yards behind line of scrimmage when ball is passed The offending team shall be penalized five yards.

5. The play is ruled a safety.

QUESTIONS

1. On try for point kick is blocked but is picked up by member of kicking team and carried across. What is decision?

2 Player A kicks off and player of his team runs out of bounds to avoid being blocked He than goes down the field and recovers ball. What is decision?

3. Guard drops back eight yards to punt. Ball is passed and instead of kicking he runs with ball. Is this legal?

4 Member of team B signals for fair catch He catches it on run and is unable to stop before taking four steps. What is ruling down and distance to be gained?

5. Captain calls time out and at end of two minutes is not ready to resume play. Is there any way in which he legally may have additional time out?

Duet Against Chorus in World's Series Pitching

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 27—The prospective pitching situation for the world's series, with the Athletics embroiled with the Cardinals, involves the case of a duet against a chorus.

Nearly two-thirds of the mound burden for the Mackmen this year has been shouldered by the great Robert Moses Grove, premier southpaw of baseball, and iron man George Earnshaw, right handed smoke ball tosser.

The Cardinals, in sharp contrast, have galloped home in front of the National league pack through the combined pitching efforts of a half dozen. Flint Rhem, Wild Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes have proved the most sensational workers but Jess Haines and Sylvester Johnson have contributed a fair share of victories, with Lindsey or Grabowski to meet an occasional emergency.

Grove To Start

In a short series, the experience and ability of two such aces as Grove and Earnshaw figures to give the A's an advantage They won the 1929 series with Grove operating only in a relief role, due to a finger injury, but he is in good health now, and should start the opening game.

Earnshaw, with only a day's travel in between pitched two straight games against the Cubs a year ago. He will be quite willing to repeat, unless Mack decides to take on young LeRoy Mahaffey, Rube Walberg, Bill Shores or old Jack Quinn. There is no Howard Ehmke under cover to confound the experts this time.

Cards Hurlers Good

Grimes, still one of the craftiest and gamest pitchers in baseball, may be the starting choice for the Cardinals, with Flint Rhem and Wild Bill Hallahan next in line, unless Manager Gabby Street figures the veteran Jess Haines can repeat his fine work of 1926. Rhem, when right and in condition, has a tremendous matter of stuff. So has Hallahan, a southpaw who can walk a dozen as easily as he can strike out that many.

Hallahan and Grove are unquestionably the fastest two southpaws in captivity and a battle between them would be the greatest portside duel since Art Nehf and Herb Pennock were world's series rivals. Rhem and Earnshaw likewise have speed to burn.

Four Tennessee football stars—Eugene McEver and Buddy Hackman, halfbacks, and Fritz Brandt and Paul Hug, ends—weigh 183 pounds each.

PRICE DECLINE IS UNCHECKED

Stock Market Still Governed by Bearish Influence; Selling General.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—The stock market ended a fortnight of almost steadily declining prices today with the bears still in the saddle. Selling was again general throughout the list and although the usual short covering assisted an advance from the lows, many groups, especially rails, were weak.

Rallies appearing intermittently during the two hours of vigorous trading were feebly held, for with the market at the levels of the June lows, bearish professionals were loathe to give up. Some circles expressed a belief that a selling climax was close at hand.

A late rally reduced many of the day's extreme losses to fractional proportions, but the majority of shares closed lower. General Electric, U. S. Steel, American Telephone and American Can were fairly steady throughout. Standard Oil of New Jersey, National Biscuit, Sears Roebuck and Allied Chemical lost two to four before meeting support. Atchison tumbled more than five, Canadian Pacific nearly five, Southern Railway three, Union Pacific and Norfolk & Western two. Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago Northwestern, New Haven, Rock Island and Missouri Pacific made new lows, together with Radio, International Telephone, and Standard Oils of New York and California. The market closed irregular. Sales approximated 1,650,000 shares.

Weakness of grains in Chicago, where wheat broke one to two cents in the earlier dealings, gave some impetus to the selling of shares.

The day's news was not of a character to stimulate selling. Trade summaries said the week's improvement in business had been moderate, with buying more active in numerous wholesale and jobbing lines, and that the outlook for fall had improved.

Reports from the Youngstown steel district said that operations of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. would be five per cent lower next week, but that Republic and Carnegie would maintain this week's ratios.

CRANBERRIES ARRIVE ON MARKET SHELVES

Popular Thanksgiving Day Item Sells at 20 Cents a Pound.

Perhaps the most significant move in Marion market circles this week was the arrival of cranberries from New England states, ready to begin a season that will climax with Thanksgiving day. Arrival of the cranberry crop is an indication that imported winter specialties are about to begin supplanting the locally grown fresh fruits and vegetables.

The cranberries opened the local season at 20 cents a pound, a comparatively low figure for early in the season.

Grapefruit Here

With cranberries comes a good supply of grapefruit from western and southern states, which will in a measure supplant the rapidly fading peach crop and other fresh fruits. A slight drop in the price of grapefruit was noted in the middle of the week when the price range dropped to 10 cents and two for 25 cents. Former prices ranged as high as 15 cents each.

With northern Ohio and island peaches off the market list, grocers are turning to New York for a supply of peaches that will soon be off the market. The price is $2.50 to $3 a bushel.

Marion market men were preparing to hike egg prices two cents, following notice here of a two cent gain in Cleveland. Local markets run approximately two cents lower than Cleveland quotations.

Grocers have been pulling on Marion and Delaware county truck farmer for a supply of leaf lettuce. Local garden patches have almost reached the end of their seasons, and the leaf lettuce supply has been subsequently reduced.

Soup Beans Gain

Soup beans gained a few cents during the week to sell at ... pounds for 25 cents.

Spinach from local truck farms is quoted at two pounds for 25 cents.

Concord grapes, also locally grown, are now commanding 25 and 30 cents a pound.

Sweet potatoes are decidedly cheap, being quoted as low as ... pounds for 25 cents.

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Pippins and Wolf River apples were new on Marion market shelves today at four pounds for 25 cents. Other varieties available are Grimes Golden, Wealthy apples and Maiden Blush.

Better head lettuce was offered by a few stores today at 12 and 15 cents a head. This is a more fancy variety of head lettuce, and is excellent to use in trimming salad dishes. It does not have a wide market here and will be handled as a special by a few grocers.

Homegrown cantaloupes were cheaper today, selling in a price range of 10 to 20 cents.

WHEAT PRICE HITS NEW LOW

Selling Rush Forces Market to New Records; Other Grains Follow.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 27—Under a general rush of selling, wheat fell early today to new low price records here for all future deliveries. Reports of persistent big offerings of Russian wheat at Liverpool, and of fresh tumbling of values there, were largely responsible. Every other kind of grain dropped with wheat, and bottom price records were broken both by oats and rye as well as by wheat.

Opening ⅞@2⅛c off, Chicago wheat rallied somewhat, but then collapsed lower than before. Corn started 1½ cents down and afterward fluctuated fast.

Assertions from a leading trade authority that Russia is capable of doubling her wheat exports this season to 100,000,000 bushels, instead of 50,000,000 bushel maximum heretofore predicted did much to keep the market today in a feverish condition. With such statements current Russia's selling campaign abroad received the lion's share of attention in the wheat pit here. However, a further unsettling factor was weakness of the New York stock market.

Meanwhile, reports in some quarters that charterings of vessels for wheat shipments from Black Sea ports were at least temporarily showing a decrease received but scant notice. The apparent reason was that bookings of freight for Russian wheat exports were already too bulky as to threaten congestion of the chief European markets. Despite the alleged halt in chartering, heavy clearances in wheat from the Black sea were reported today as continuing.

Influenced by grain trade demoralization and by sharp breaks in the value of hogs, provisions likewise gave way.

40 MEN WORKING ON EAGLES' FAIR PLANS

Annual Event for Charity To Be Held Here Oct. 28 to Nov. 1.

Plans are shaping up for the fourth annual Eagles indoor fair to be given Oct. 28 to Nov. 1. Roy Abel, general chairman of the fair, is being assisted by a committee of about 40 members.

Booths will be arranged to display merchandise, entertainment will be provided and the Eagles orchestra will play music for dancing each night.

The fair has been held for the last four years to provide relief for Marion's needy poor not reached through other channels of charity. For 10 or more years the Eagles have had a relief fund, made up through various activities of the lodge.

All work for the fair is donated by members acting as committees, and all of the proceeds go into the relief fund.
